

Research data management in the curriculum

I will provide a brief overview about successful and not-so-successful implementations of rdm topics in maths curricula, and I will discuss the aims of such implementations. I then provide a platform for discussion, together with the workshop audience, about how lecturers and researchers in scientific computing might adapt existing solutions and anchor them in their communities.

Presenter: GÖRGEN, Christiane

Session Classification: Contributed